PROFILE

I am a curious individual with a background in business and the ability to tap into research, visual and interaction designs skills.

I recently graduated from a UX design Bootcamp at Brain Station Miami where I strengthened my understanding of UX design thinking and my knowledge in design tools. I find UX/UI design to be a field where I can bring my combination of skills in customer experience and visual design to craft unique solutions to user problems.

Passionate about solving pain points and improving the lives of people through design. Allow me to preempt your customer needs.
